ACCOMPLICES OF FRANK HOLT?

Men May Be Those to Whom Morgan's Assassin Referred as His Assistants

STORE OF EXPLOSIVES FOUND
Motorboat and Automobile Thought to Be Means of Reaching British Liners

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—With the arrangement of two men in Weehawken, N. J., today on the charge of disorderly conduct, secret service operatives and local police saw possibility of breaking up a conspiracy responsible for bomb explosions aboard numerous trans-Atlantic liners and attempts to wreck munition factories.

The two men are Robert Fay and Walter Scholtz, arrested in a patch of woods where they were testing explosives near Grantwood, N. J., yesterday.

When arraigned, the men requested that they be given twenty-four hours in which to arrange for counsel to defend them on bomb-planting conspiracy charges which will be brought by secret service operatives and the police.

The request was granted and both of the alleged anti-British conspirators were returned to jail without bond. It was expected the men would be turned over to the federal authorities but on their request the formal arraignment was put over and they will be brought into court again tomorrow.

A third arrest was made today when Paul Dache, 34, was taken into custody at his rooming house in Jersey City. Dache, the police declared, made damaging admissions, connecting him up with the operations of Fay and Scholtz. He was also lodged in jail without bond and will be given hearing tomorrow.

Dache, according to the police, has been in this country since 1912. He is a graduate of Cologne university.

Fay German Lieutenant?
Fay is declared to be a lieutenant in the German army. He is said to have fought in the battle of the Marne and came to this country soon after that historic conflict. Scholtz is said to have come to this country a year ago and to have taken out first citizenship papers, but is declared to be a German reservist.

Quantities of explosives, a motor boat and an automobile, the property of Fay and Scholtz, are in the hands of the authorities today. The secret service men and police have as yet made no statement indicating they believed the two may be the accomplices which "Frank Holt," the assassin of J. P. Morgan, hinted he had in his bomb-planting operations, but it is expected both Fay and Scholtz will be questioned closely along this line.

Even while the police were still questioning Fay and Scholtz at midnight word was received of a fire, believed to be of incendiary origin, which destroyed two powder plants of the Dupont Powder company, at Hopewell, Virginia. The fire was still burning at that time.

Equipment Damaging Evidence
The most concrete evidence the authorities secured against the men was their equipment. Among their effects were:

- A chart of New York harbor, showing locations of all steamship piers.
- Two hundred bomb clinders.
- Twenty-five pounds of tri-nitrate of tolnol.
- Twenty-five sticks of dynamite.
- Five hundred percussion caps.
- Five ingenious mines, each capable of blowing a liner to pieces, with time clock attachments.
- Two automatic revolvers and several knives.

The motorboat and automobile are regarded by the police as significant. In the former, the police believe the men ranged up and down the river poking in between liners and probably getting data on the big munitions carrying liners for use later.

Since spring fourteen large liners have been found to have bombs or other explosives concealed in their holds after putting to sea. Of these

Holy Cross Catholic Church Filled at Bishop Schwebach Speaks Yesterday Afternoon

FATHER CONDON COMMENDS PARISH

St. Mary's Pastor Congratulates Holy Cross Pastor and Congregation on Work

Several hundreds of people were unable to secure entrance to the Holy Cross Catholic church yesterday afternoon, at the dedication services of the new Holy Cross parochial school. A crowd estimated at 2,000 attended the dedicatory exercises, at which Bishop Schwebach delivered the main address. The prelate also presided at the formal dedication at the school building at which none but members of the clergy and the smallest of the school children were admitted.

The exercises were held in the auditorium of the church. Addresses were delivered by Bishop Schwebach, Rev. Father Grabowski of Winona and by the Rev. Dr. Robert B. Condon, pastor of St. Mary's church.

Bishop Schwebach spoke briefly along educational lines. He congratulated the parish on the erection of the beautiful institution, and added that nothing should be left undone by the members of the parish to facilitate the good work.

Rev. Grabowski delivered an address in the Polish language in which he centered his remarks around the importance of and the advantages to be gained from a thorough education. He complimented the members of the parish and their spiritual guide on their wonderful work. The comparative size of the congregation rendered the accomplishment the more noteworthy, in view of the fact that the church boasted of but 140 families as members, he declared.

Rev. Condon Speaks
Rev. Dr. Robert Condon, pastor of St. Mary's congregation, delivered the English sermon.

He took for his text: "Going therefore, teach ye all nations, baptizing them in the name of the Father, and the Son, and the Holy Ghost, teaching them to observe all things whatsoever I have commanded you."

Church Aims High
The speaker told of the provisions made for primary, intermediate and higher education, by Catholic schools, adding that her efforts in these lines were appreciated by every student of the past, and by every lover of civilization.

He commended the Rev. Father Kufel of the Holy Cross church, and the members of the parish, on their accomplishment, and said that he trusted they would realize their hopes in the new school, and be compensated a hundredfold for their sacrifice and labor in consummating its erection.

Following the sermon by Dr. Condon, the sixteen priests attending repaired to the school, where the formal dedication was held in the Latin language.

Chief Actor at Oberammergau Killed in Champagne

Anton Lang in Various Poses as Christ in the Passion Play

Anton Lang, chosen from thousands to take the part of Christ in the Oberammergau Passion play because of his great likeness to the Saviour, has been killed in the Champagne while fighting with the German army, according to letters received at Manitowish, Wis., by his cousin, Alois Lang, who himself played a minor role in two of the passion plays.

Lang always tried to follow the virtues of the Saviour. Once questioned as to how he could fight against his fellow men and still try to be Christ-like, he replied that the teachings of Christ himself were that all men should obey the laws of the land.

Lang was a member of the volunteer ski corps. He leaves a widow and three children who live in this country.

RATS MAKE NEST IN JEWELRY STORE FROM PROMINENT HOMES HERE

The mystery of the whereabouts of a quantity of jewelry stolen from the homes of Alfred James, 1619 King street, and Mrs. J. A. Peterson, 125 South Sixteenth street, by Frederick Nelson, yeggman who was captured by young Burton James an hour now serving five years in state's prison, was solved yesterday afternoon when Miss Marie Gallagher, 16-year-old member of the James household, discovered that a family of rodents had interwoven the stolen valuables in their nests.

The young lady was raking dry leaves near the fence in the James' back yard. Her rake uncovered the opening of a rat hole. The size of the aperture and the fact that something glistened at the bottom of it aroused her curiosity.

She poked a stick into the hole and pulled out a gold ring. Detectives Fitzsimmons and McGrath were called and with Mr. James they began to dig.

The articles of jewelry were mainly found tied in an old bandana handkerchief, but some of the rings had been pulled out and were found several feet from the handkerchief and as deep as two feet in the ground. The detectives had previously gone over the same ground thoroughly, but the fact that a hard rain fell following the burglaries made it impossible to learn that anything had been buried in the ground. Every piece of jewelry with the exception of one ring was recovered.

Nelson was caught near the James home by young Burton James after he had jumped from the porch of the home. He admitted robbing the James home and that of Odin J. Oyen, but the robbery at the home of Mrs. Peterson remained a mystery.

The only articles recovered at the time of the robbery were those taken from the Oyen home. Nelson was believed to have had a confederate but this theory is now exploded with the finding of the loot.

It is the belief of the police now that Nelson buried the jewelry with the intention of digging it up at a later time.

WOLFE INVITED TO SEE M'ADOO AT THE CAPITAL

Local Man, Mentioned for Governor, Asked to Attend Madison Conference

IS CIRCUMSTANCE SIGNIFICANT?
Political Circles Stirred, It Being Known Husting and Aylward Men Support Wolfe

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 25.—(Special)—Coinciding with the announcement that Secretary of the Treasury William G. McAdoo will speak at Madison Saturday, comes the report that William F. Wolfe of La Crosse will be asked to come here to participate in the conference. The announcements have caused more than a flutter of interest in democratic political circles here. Wolfe, who has been mentioned for governor, is understood to have the support of the Aylward and Husting democrats, although Evan Evans of Baraboo, T. J. Cunningham of Chippewa Falls and E. J. Dempsey of Oshkosh have also been mentioned as gubernatorial possibilities.

While the gymnasium speech will be non-political in character, McAdoo's visit will have political significance judged from the fact that he will be the guest of John A. Aylward, United States district attorney for the western district, while here. In his telegram announcing his coming, McAdoo has asked that United States Senator Paul O. Husting of Mayville be notified so that he may be in Madison at the time.

Aylward is recognized as one of the leading Wilson men of the state. With his former law-partner, Joseph E. Davies, head of the federal trade commission, the boom for Wilson in the state was started by him nearly four years ago.

William F. Wolfe this afternoon admitted that he had been invited to attend the conference, saying, however, that it will be doubtful whether he will accept the invitation, naming rush of duties as a possible hindrance.

Athens Says Allies Have Asked Hellenic Government on Stand in Balkans

LONDON, Oct. 25.—The Austro-Germans were advancing in Serbia today along about an eighty mile front, about thirty miles south of the Danube and Save and straddling the Belgrade-Constantinople railroad and Morava river.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—The Bulgarians, according to their official report, have captured Uskup, an important junction on the Salonika-Nish railway, and have thus placed themselves across the route by which the allies' reinforcements for the Serbs would travel.

The Austro-Germans in the north have begun a more vigorous offensive and have crossed the Danube near Orsova, in Austria.

This brings much nearer the linking up of the armies of the Germanic allies and those of Bulgaria and the opening of the way through Bulgaria to Constantinople.

The allies have repeated their request that Greece decide whether to join them or the central powers, according to an Athens message today.

That Greece has occupied a Serbian territory as reported, was denied today in a semi-official note.

Cruelty Charged
PARIS, Oct. 25.—Horrible cruelties by Bulgarians in southern Serbia, are described in dispatches today from Salonika.

Quarter is seldom granted on either side, it was stated. Neither Bulgarians nor Serbians expect it, and fight to the death almost invariably. The men seem actuated by personal hatred of one another, according to accounts from the fighting zone.

Not only, it was asserted, have the Bulgars shown no mercy to their armed enemies but they were declared to have slaughtered noncombatants wholesale, including old men, women and children.

Allied Successes Claimed
ATHENS, via London, Oct. 25.—The French defeated the Bulgarians Sunday along a front from Ondovo to Krivolak, after a twenty-four hour battle, according to news from Salonika today. Bulgaria's offensive in Serbia has been broken at Veles, Salonika, advices said today. The French and Serb forces were said to have united at Krivolak and struck at the invaders' left wing. The Bulgars retreated in disorder on Strumitza, pursued by the Franco-Serb troops.

Pojarevac advices said the Germans also were on the defensive.

Officials Believe That Many Employees Were Unable to Escape and Are Dead

PITTSBURG, Pa., Oct. 25.—Ten persons are known to be dead, many injured and several reported missing in the fire which this afternoon swept the plant of the Union Box company, at Allegheny.

One hundred girls, trapped in the building, leaped from windows to the street before firemen could arrive with nets.

The blaze, starting in the feed store of W. S. Brown, below the factory loft, spread so rapidly that most of the apparatus in the city was called to fight it.

Officials of the company said this afternoon that of the twenty-six men and girls employed, only ten, to their knowledge, had escaped from the burning building. Of those who escaped, nine were in the hospital.

The bodies of nine girls and one man, burned to a crisp, were taken from the upper floors of the building by firemen. At least ten others were believed to be in the ruins.

Besides the box factory, several other small manufacturing plants occupied the building. The police estimated there were at least 100 persons there when the blaze started. The dead, however, were mostly from the box factory.

Five girls were taken down a rope. Three jumped from the third story, where the box factory was located. Two of the girls were injured severely by jumping to the street. Others escaped by making a desperate leap across a space more than four feet wide, to an adjoining building.

MEXICAN BANDITS OBJECT OF "MAN HUNT" ON BORDER

President Personally Superintends to Check Raiders When Situation Is Admittedly Bad

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—A drag net was thrown out today by United States troops and secret service men on the Mexican border in the search for Mexican outlaws active in recent raids. A "man hunt" of immense proportions is impending.

Officials admitted today that the border situation is acute. Steps to check the raiders are under the personal direction of President Wilson. He has given Secretary of War Garrisson and Attorney General Gregory authority to resort to drastic measures. Because of the inception of the raids on American soil and the American influences believed responsible, the wildest rumors regarding the border conspiracies were in circulation today. One report was that Villa was instigating the attacks upon the American troops in reprisal for this government's recognition of Carranza and in hope of forcing American intervention across the boundary.

Another rumor is that Villa has secured new American financial backing for further revolt. Still another was that Felix Diaz was forming a new revolution in co-operation with Zapata.

The TRIBUNE'S Daily Short Story

THE BLACK CAT

BY LOUISE OLIVER

Copyright, 1915, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.

Jack Morrow returned late one night from the office. He had walked all the way home in vain to find a way out of a very embarrassing dilemma.

Betty Hollister and he were to be married within the month and he had just discovered that he was almost without a cent in the world. Donald, his younger brother at college, had got into trouble and there was no one else to help him. The check he had mailed in the afternoon had just about cleaned him out. Unless some miracle happened, there was nothing left in the stocking to pay for a wedding trip, three new suits, bridal flowers and furniture for the bungalow they had rented.

There was no way he could think of to postpone the wedding without breaking Betty's heart. All of her arrangements were complete and he had heard her say once that she would rather die than change the date of her wedding.

Yes there was a possible way—just a mere chance as slim as a spider's thread! Jim Barlow had dropped in that day and advised him to invest in Cascade Steel. Jack never played the market, but Jim did with more or less luck, and when Jack had replied that he couldn't afford it, Jim had offered to lend him the where-withal.

"No, thanks, old fellow!" Jack had replied. "I may have to start married life even with the board—but I might lose your money, and I couldn't ask Betty to start with a handicap like that."

Jim's offer now seemed to be the only straw that could save him. He had thought over every other possible way, but there was none.

He took out his latchkey and unlocked the front door as a nearby clock started to strike 12. As he turned the knob, something soft rubbed against his legs. He opened the door and the hall light revealed a jet black cat that started to purr contentedly as it turned for another rub against his trousers.

Midnight and a black cat! Jack looked cautiously around. He had come from a New England town and was as full of superstitions as a cantaloup is of seeds. Surely this was a lucky sign. He must keep the cat! Nothing could be more hazardous to luck than to turn it loose now.

But his landlady hated cats, and besides, she was a relative of Betty. Betty must never know about the cat because the one thing they ever disagreed about was Jack's "superstition," as practical Betty put it.

But this lucky sign meant that he was almost sure to win if he took up Jim's offer of the morning. It had to be done! He picked up the cat and held it under his coat as he slipped stealthily up to his room.

Early the next morning Betty, looking pale and hollow eyed, met Jack at the front door on his way to work. She eyed the traveling bag he carried curiously, but he explained hastily that he was carrying papers to the office.

He had been up since dawn trying to devise methods of feeding and hiding his new pet. For two hours he had looked out of the window in vain for a milkman. The trunk, the cupboard and each bureau drawer had elicited only dismal yowls of loneliness. There was nothing for it but to carry his good luck fetish back and forth with him to the office, where he could feed it and keep an eye on it through the day. Better the jeers of the boys than the wrath of Betty and the risk of having the cat driven from the house. Nothing on earth could make him part with it now until the deal was over which was to replace his lost fortune.

A few days passed—days of more than one kind of anxiety for Jack. First there was Cascade Steel, which couldn't decide whether to go up or down. Then there was the cat, which made him the butt of a thousand jokes at the office and miserable at the house nightly for fear of discovery. But, last of all, Betty had taken a notion to droop.

She was as sweetly alluring as ever but there was something undefinable about her he could not understand. She protested that she was well—yet she was pale and abstracted and her thoughts seemed to be miles away. She started at every sound and flew to the door every time she heard an unusual noise.

Jack was worried. Their wedding day was approaching and Betty got worse instead of better.

One thing, however—Cascade Steel was doing well and in a couple of days he hoped to clear all he had lost and pay Jim's loan.

Then the cat could go whither it would. In the meantime he watched it with renewed vigilance.

But the cat got away! One night Jack woke up with a feeling of disaster. His first thought was for pussy. Sure enough—its bed in the open wardrobe drawer was empty. A thorough search of the room proved futile and the transom solved the riddle.

He elipped into a few clothes and peered cautiously out into the hall, then felt his way slowly downstairs. The parlor, by the light of a match, was catless! Then he started for the dining room and stopped, hearing a feminine voice. The door stood open just enough for him to see Betty in the middle of the floor hugging his black cat and rubbing her cheeks against its sleek head. He didn't even know she was in the house.

"Oh, Niggy, dear, I'm so glad I found you," she crooned. "I've looked for you for a week, ever since the night I lost you over here! And it's such bad luck to have a black cat come to you and then lose it, especially before your wedding. I just pretty nearly decided not to marry Jack at all until I found you. But how you came to me here I don't know."

And Jack, tiptoeing exultantly back to his room, decided that she never should.

"Whys" of Moves in European War

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—The Serbian plan of campaign is now developing sufficiently to indicate its essential characteristics. Two objectives confronted the general staff at Nish when the Teutons began their drive toward Constantinople and when Bulgaria joined the Teuton-Turk alliance. The first had in reality a double purpose—to prevent the Austro-Germans from cutting their way through Serbia into Bulgaria and to oppose the Bulgarian effort to join the Teutons in northern Serbia. This is the plan of campaign which the Serbs have accepted.

The alternative objective was to preserve invaders to march into Bulgaria, at the same time to hold the Bulgars back in the south. The two objectives could not be adopted at the same time because the Serbian army is not strong enough to be divided into powerful northern and southern groups. Macedonia, therefore, has been largely deserted by the Serb troops, who are compelled to allow the Bulgarians to advance in the southern districts so that the Austro-Germans may encounter the maximum degree of resistance amid the northern mountains.

The acceptance of this plan demonstrates the Serbs are being guided by sound strategic motives. The Macedonian advance of the Bulgars is not far from the Greek border. When the Anglo-French expeditionary force at Salonika becomes sufficiently strong to strike a major blow in the Balkans, the nearest line against which operations must be directed is the Bulgar front in Macedonia.

The Serbians cannot hold out indefinitely against their enemies, if the allies decide not to make a serious move in the Balkans. It is absolutely necessary that the Serbs accept the theory of eventual and sufficient help from Great Britain and France.

This being the case, the Serbs are contributing powerfully to the allies' cause by concentrating all their effort in the north and preventing the Teutons from establishing themselves in Bulgaria. The Bulgarian gains in Serbian Macedonia, therefore, are not as important as they might be under other circumstances. The principal advantage the Bulgars are reaping from the situation is an ability to dig themselves in along the Macedonian front without serious interference. If the allies carry out their present intentions and throw from 300,000 to 400,000 men into the Balkans, the chances are that the Bulgarians will have to retreat from Macedonia to defend their own country.

LA FOLLETTE QUILTS RELIEF COMMITTEE

SHEBOYGAN, Wis., Oct. 25.—Senator Robert M. La Follette in a telegram to the Sheboygan Press stated that he had severed his connection with the national allied relief committee of New York when he learned that the committee was working to raise funds for the relief of noncombatants in allied countries only. The senator stated that he had accepted a place on the committee while he understood that it was working for the relief of non-combatants in all countries. When information was received by the senator from Karl Davis Robinson, secretary of the committee, that the object was to aid allies only, Senator La Follette announced his withdrawal.

SLEEPING THROUGH IT

The Sentinel agrees with the Wau-saw Record-Herald that "Bob ought to be beaten this time," but it attaches a string. "If the right man is named to oppose him," hedges the Sentinel, and it warns the devoted public against "over confidence."

The public is very confident, very sure. But not "over confident." The public, which in Wisconsin never fails to get what it wants more than once in a while, knows that Senator La Follette will be re-elected.

The Sentinel, too, knows it. The Record-Herald, of course, does not know it.

WHAT THE PEOPLE WANT TO KNOW

Every citizen, including the pa-trists, wants this nation to be in a state of "preparedness." Merely they disagree upon what is "preparedness."

Could we look ahead and anticipate the date of war, the problem would not be difficult. The thing that must now be determined, in order to justify the sinking of millions, perhaps billions, in agencies of "preparedness" is what agencies can be established today that would have practical value should war overtake us several years hence. Many things are advocated, but we doubt if there is in the United States a single truly patriotic man of the first intellectual magnitude who will dare say he knows.

Upon another point the public is skeptical. With the spectacle of the "pork bar," still unrelinquished, before them, and rotten steel rails and embalmed beef behind them, citizens want definite assurance that the immense expenditures now contemplated would be spent honestly.
They want to know whether the government, or the "invisible government," is the moving influence behind the proposal for "preparedness."

WITHOUT RHYME OR REASON

Making the centenary of Richard Henry Dana, long since author of "Two Years Before the Mast," the pretext for its discussion, the Sentinel kate-dids into the organized misrepresentation of the La Follette Seamen act. Dana apropos of what, who knows? Concluding its grief over the "vanishing fleets" the Sentinel says:

We see that Editor La Follette fills his current number with lopsided and limping defenses of his law that has legislated our carriers off the seas and our seamen out of their jobs. Richard Henry Dana's opinion of the achievement would be forcible, and couched in terms that every man before the mast could relish like cabin duff and salt horse.

For yars an' yars the Sentinel has been whooping 'er up for a ship subsidy to "restore our merchant marine," driven from the seas by this nation's "niggard policy" of refusing to make its people pay tribute in taxes to a shipping trust. If our merchant marine died years ago for want of "pork," how can a bill not yet two years old have "legislated our carriers off the seas?" The grammar grades know the history of American shipping—why falsify so palpably?

And as for "legislating our . . .
seamen out of jobs," the seamen have for years fought for the La Follette law, are fighting for it now. If they think they want freedom which the emancipation proclamation, liberating the negroes, did not extend to them; if they think they want safety and freedom from Mongolian competition, why should the Sentinel object?

Of course the Sentinel makes no mention of the inconsequent feature of the law whereby the public is guarded against crimes like those that brought about such disasters as the loss of thousands of lives on the Gen. Slocum, Empress of Ireland, Titanic and Eastland.

One wonders whether a subsidized merchant marine and a subsidized press would not work well together.

LOOKS LIKE BUMPER PENNANT CROP

With two state championships staring us in the face, why should we not be happy?

The manner in which the State Normal school trampled over the Superior team is more than a mild suggestion that the state normal pennant will come to La Crosse. The remarkable triumph of the high school eleven over the strong Eau Claire team is still more significant because Mr. Reget was unable to participate.

Without any question teams in both classes will henceforth keep La Crosse in mind as the leading contender for championship honors, and we have more than mere optimism to justify our notion that they will do well to have an eye on us.

Incidentally, we confess to considerable elation over the fact that our Stavrum put over one of the touchdowns in the 'varsity's victory over Ohio.

All around, things look very fine.
Now let us get out and support our boys in their splendid battle for La Crosse.

AUTO BANDITS CAUGHT

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—With the arrest of seven youths today the police believed they have a gang of auto bandits who have been terrorizing Chicago for more than six months. One of the number, Mike Yanehan, according to the police, confessed to a score of "stick ups."

KNIGHTHOOD AWAITS DUMBA

LONDON, Oct. 25.—Dr. Dumba will be knighted on his arrival at Vienna, according to Vossische Zeitung today. The paper predicted, however, that he would retire from the diplomatic service.

The First Page

Why can't we have for just one day a good old-time first page.
The kind we used to have before the war began to rage?
We'd like to hear from Pankhurst; we enjoyed her funny stunts.
And where is Dr. San Yat Sen? We reveled in him once.
Oh, for a word from old Doc Cook.
Where's Dickey Hobson now?
We'd like some news from La Follette; we miss him much, we vow.

Has Tillman kicked the bucket, and has Sulzer gone and quit?
Has Illinois stopped grafting? Ain't Teddy sore a bit?
What has become of all those bums those gunmen of New York?
Can't congress get the barrel out, the one that's labeled
"Pork?"

Where, tell us where is Harry Thaw and Evelyn the fair?
We haven't heard a word from that most interesting pair.
We'd like to hear from William J.
We'd like to read his views.
Let's skip the war for just one day and have some old time news.

Grateful Papa

Miss Curley kept a private school, and one morning was interviewing a new pupil.
"What does your father do to earn his living?" the teacher asked the little girl.
"Please, ma'am," was the prompt reply, "he doesn't live with us. My mamma supports me."
"Well, then," asked the teacher,
"how does your mother earn her living?"
"Why," replied the little girl, in an artless manner, "she gets paid for staying away from father."—Argonaut.

Misinterpreted

"Yes," said the young singer complacently, "I had a great reception after my song last night. The audience shouted 'Fine! Fine!'"
"Good thing you didn't sing again," said the cynic.
"Why, what do you mean?"
"They would have yelled 'Imprisonment!' the second time."—Stray Stories.

Willing to Instruct

"Lady," said Plodding Pete, "do you want any wood chopped?"
"Yes."
"Well, if you'll gimme yer dinner I'll hang around an' give yer husband an' yer two grown sons an eloquent discourse on how wrong it is of 'em not to turn in an' do their duty."—Dallas News.

Something Else Again

"They charged like demons," said the retired colonel, excitedly. "I never saw anything to touch it. The way they charged positively staggered me."
"Who does he mean?" whispered

EAT LESS MEAT IF BACK HURTS

Take a glass of Salts to flush kidneys if bladder bothers you.

Eating meat regularly eventually produces kidney trouble in some form or other, says a well-known authority, because the uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked, get sluggish, clog up and cause all sorts of distress, particularly backache and misery in the kidney region; rheumatic twinges, severe headaches, acid stomach, constipation, torpid liver, sleeplessness, bladder and urinary irritation.

The moment your back hurts or kidneys aren't acting right, or if bladder bothers you, get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any good pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity; also to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder disorders.

Jad Salts cannot injure anyone; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then to keep the kidneys and urinary organs clean, thus avoiding serious kidney disease.

KIRK'S JAP ROSE SOAP

Most toilet and bath soaps must be rubbed and rubbed to get a lather, particularly when the water is hard.

lathers instantly and freely in hard or soft water, rinses away like magic, leaving the skin soft and perfectly clean.

In Grammar

"Now, Jimmie," said the teacher, "let us take the verb to be. What is the past of it?"
"Was," said Jimmie.
"Very good," said the teacher.
"And what is the past to be?"
"Buzz!" roared Jimmie.—Judge.

His Size

The Judge—You say your wife assaulted you with a dangerous and deadly weapon? What was it?
Mr. Pewee—It was a fly swatter, ideas beautifully.

He—But you see I am a freight agent.—Judge.

How Could They?

"Jones never had a thing to say about that last fishing trip of his did he?"
"No. You see he really caught a lot of fish, and he's afraid to tell any one for fear they won't believe him."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Peaceful Freedom

"Boys, stop fighting! What's it all about?"
"Why, this fellow stole our baseball outfit and won't give it up!"
"Let him keep it, then. Remember you have to pay something for peace, and peace we must have at any cost!"—Judge.

He Was Right

Editor—Do you know how to run a newspaper?
Applicant—No, sir.
Editor—Well, I'll try you. I guess you've had experience.—Puck.

Deacon—I am afraid. Susie your Susie—Oh, yes, sir; I guess he does; he took his gun with him.—

TO SHIP MOLDING SAND

BELOIT, Wis., Oct. 25.—The Northwestern Molding Sand company has been organized here. It will supply several of the big Beloit foundries and also ship to outside firms.

KAZAN
By James Oliver Curwood Author of The Danger Trail, The Honor of The Big Snows, Philip Steele, Etc.
Copyright 1914, The Bobbs-Merrill Co.

Five times he circled around the husky, and then like a shot he was in sending his whole weight against the husky's shoulder, with the momentum of a ten-foot leap behind it.
This time he did not try for a hold, but slashed at the husky's jaws. It was the deadliest of all attacks when that merciless tribunal of death stood waiting for the first fall of the vanquished. The huge dog was thrown from his feet. For a fatal moment he rolled upon his side and in the moment his four sledge-mates were upon him. All of their hated of the weeks and months in which the long-fanged leader had bullied them in the traces was concentrated upon him now and he was literally torn into pieces.

Kazan pranced to Gray Wolf's side and with joyful whine she laid her head over his neck. Twice he had fought the fight of death for her.
Twice he had won. And in her blindness Gray Wolf's soul—if soul she had—rose in exultation to the cold gray sky, and her breast panted against Kazan's shoulder as she listened to the crunching of fangs in the flesh and bone of the foe her lord and master had overthrown.

CHAPTER XVI.
The Call.

Followed days of feasting on the frozen flesh of the old bull. In vain Gray Wolf tried to lure Kazan off into the forests and the swamps. Day by day the temperature rose. There was hunting now. And Gray Wolf wanted to be alone—with Kazan.
But with Kazan, as with most men, leadership and power roused new sensations. And he was the leader of the dog-pack, as he had once been a leader among the wolves. Not only Gray Wolf followed at his flank now, but the four huskies trailed behind him. Once more he was experiencing that triumph and strange thrill that he had almost forgotten and only Gray Wolf, in that eternal night of her blindness, felt with dread foreboding the danger into which his newly achieved czarship might lead him.

For three days and three nights they remained in the neighborhood of the dead moose, ready to defend it against others, and yet each day and each night growing less vigilant in their guard. Then came the fourth night, on which they killed a young doe. Kazan led in that chase and for the first time, in the excitement of having the pack at his back, he left his blind mate behind. When they came to the kill he was the first to leap at its soft throat. And not until he had begun to tear at the doe's flesh did the others dare to eat. He was master. He could send them back with a snarl. At the gleam of his fangs they crouched quivering on their bellies in the snow.

Kazan's blood was fomented with brute exultation, and the excitement and fascination that came in the possession of new power took the place of Gray Wolf each day a little more. She came in half an hour after the kill, and there was no longer the lithesome alertness to her slender legs, or gladness in the tilt of her ears, or the poise of her head. She did not eat much of the doe. Her blind face was turned always in Kazan's direction. Wherever he moved she followed with her unseeing eyes, as if expecting each moment his old signal to her—that low throat-note that had called to her so often when they were alone in the wilderness.

In Kazan, as leader of the pack, there was working a curious change.
If his mates had been wolves it would not have been difficult for Gray Wolf to have lured him away.
But Kazan was among his own kind.
He was a dog. And they were dogs.
Fires that had burned down and ceased to warm him flamed up in him anew. In his life with Gray Wolf one thing had oppressed him as it could not oppress her, and that thing was loneliness. Nature had created him of that kind which requires companionship—not of one but of many. It had given him birth that he might listen to and obey the commands of the voice of man. He had grown to hate men, but of the dogs —his kind, he was a part. He had been happy with Gray Wolf, happier than he had ever been in the companionship of men and his blood-brothers. But he had been a long time separated from the life that had once been his and the call of blood made him for a time forget. And only Gray Wolf, with that wonderful super-instinct which nature was giving her in place of her lost sight, foresaw the end to which it was leading him.

Each day the temperature continued to rise until when the sun was warmest the snow began to thaw a little. This was two weeks after the fight near the bull. Gradually the pack had swung eastward, until it was now fifty miles east and twenty miles south of the old home under the windfall. More than ever Gray Wolf began to long for their old nest under the fallen trees. Again with those first promises of spring in sunshine and air, there was coming also for the second time in her life the promise of approaching motherhood.

But her efforts to draw Kazan back were unavailing, and in spite of her protest he wandered each day a little farther east and south at the head of his pack.

Instinct impelled the four huskies to move in that direction. They had not yet been long enough a part of the wild to forget the necessity of man and in that direction there was man. In that direction, and not far from them now, was the Hudson Bay Company's post to which they and their dead master owed their allegiance. Kazan did not know this, but one day something happened to bring back visions and desires that widened still more the gulf between him and Gray Wolf.

They had come to the cap of a ridge when something stopped them.
It was a man's voice crying shrilly that word of long ago that had so often stirred the blood in Kazan's own veins—"m'hoosh! m'hoosh! m'hoosh!"—and from the ridge they looked down upon the open space of the plain, where a team of six dogs was trotting ahead of a sledge, with a man running behind them, urging them on at every other step with that cry of "m'hoosh! m'hoosh! m'hoosh!"

MAJESTIC BILL IS MIXTURE OF MUSIC AND FROLIC

"Toy Town Revue" Headlines Unusual Vaudeville Bill Yesterday

The Majestic theater's vaudeville program yesterday contained a whirl of singing and dancing of the cleverest variety which the 1915 season has so far brought forth.

"The Toy Town Revue," a melange of mirth and melody offered by Samuel Baerwitz and written and staged under the direction of Will J. Harris, took first honors on the bill. A chorus of six nifty maidens appeared in costumes up to the minute, in fitting with ultra-nifty stage settings which the company employs. Ned Melroy, comedian, was the star of the act. The hit of the number was the telling in song of "The House that Jack Built."

Standard Brothers open the bill with athletic stunts out of the ordinary. They are followed by Sharp and Ramser, two of the classiest entertainers the Majestic has brought to its house during the present season. They dance and sing and offer a novelty at the close of their number.

Roberts, Stuart and Roberts, in "A Revue of 1915-1916," bring something new to the vaudeville follower. "Tyson and Barbour put on a singing and dancing number which brought them much applause.

NEW IRVINE STORE FRONT WINS PRAISE FOR ARTISTIC LINES

Remodeled in Copper and Mahogany on Modern Plan of Beauty and Utility

One of the most beautiful and artistic store fronts in the city and, able critics agree, one of the most modern and handsome in the state, is the one just completed for W. T. Irvine, the Main street jeweler. The entire front of the building was torn out, and the second floor was remodeled, in order that the original scheme for the front might be carried out. A large window extends across the entire front. This window swings open in two directions, a novel and attractive plan unlike any other in the city.

Above the front proper is a large window of prism glass, in which is set a decorative panel of art glass, with the name "IRVINE" set in colored glass. The old posts and straight windows have been done away with, and in their places are windows set in copper frames that curve in toward the entrance in artistic lines. The top and bottom are composed of statuary bronze, and will not tarnish. The bottom is finished off by an artistic marble base. One of the unique features of the front is the awning, which, when rolled up, sets in flush with the face of the building.

The interior finish of the window is made of solid mahogany, by a firm who makes nothing but jewelry fronts. The indirect lighting system is used, and every part of the display can be seen at night, with no unpleasant glare to affect the eyes. The first display is now in place.

SAYS WOMEN ARE CRAZY ABOUT IT

Using gasoline to dry clean everything and save $5 in an hour.

Dry cleaning at home is all the rage here, says a well-known downtown druggist. Any woman can do five dollars' worth of dry cleaning at home at very little cost by dissolving two ounces of solvite in two gallons of gasoline; then immerse the articles to be cleaned; rub a little and in a few moments the gasoline evaporates and the articles cleaned look as bright and fresh as new.

Dry cleaning at home is inexpensive and effects a tremendous saving in the household and is really just as easy as laundering. Any druggist will sell two ounces of solvite which is simply a gasoline soap and your grocer or a garage will supply the gasoline. Then a wash boiler or dishpan completes the outfit.

OUR YOUNG WOMEN

are so often subject to headache—are languid, pale and nervous—because their blood is thin or insufficient. They are not really sick and hesitate to complain, but they lack that ambition and vivacity which is their birthright. They do not need drugs—but do need the tonic and nourishment in Scott's Emulsion that makes richer blood, fills hollow cheeks, suppresses nervousness and establishes strength. Nourishment alone makes blood and Scott's Emulsion is the essence of concentrated nourishment, free from wines, alcohols or opiates. If mother or daughter is frail, pale or nervous, give her Scott's for one month and see the betterment. It has a wholesome, "nutty" flavor. Avoid substitutes. At any drug store.

NO INTEREST IN LIFE

Health Gone—Position in Danger—Both Saved by Vinol

La Crosse people please do us the favor to read this letter:—
"Brooklyn, N. Y. 'I was completely run-down, had no appetite and lost all interest in life. I thought I surely would have to give up my position. I learned of Vinol, and after taking one bottle felt better. I have taken it for a few weeks and it has built me up and cured me. If people who feel weak, nervous and run-down would only try Vinol I know it would help them as it did me.' Robert Mitchell, 1295 Herkimer street, Brooklyn, N. Y."

This Brooklyn man's case is only additional proof of what we have been telling La Crosse people for years. We claim and are continually proving that Vinol is the greatest health and strength creator for overworked and run-down people obtainable. We will back this statement by agreeing to return anyone's money who will try it and who finds our claim not true.

RECOVERY FROM GRIEF

The form of influenza popularly called grip lasts but a short time, is seldom fatal but causes suffering and misery out of all proportion to its importance.

The reason is this. When the acute stage of the grip is passed there often remains a neurasthenia that persists for months if not properly corrected. The patient is moody, in poor spirits, suffers lack of appetite and vigor and feels indisposed to work or even to enjoy life. Warmth and quiet alone give comfort and these not for long at a time. Sleep is restless and does not refresh the nerves which are always at high tension.

The best way to correct this after-effect of the grip is to build up the blood and there is no better blood builder than Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

As soon as the revitalized blood courses through the system you are aware of its soothing influence. Gradually the color returns to the pale cheeks, appetite and digestion improve and you are on the road to health.

The free book "Building Up the Blood" contains a chapter on the after-effects of the grip. Send now for a copy to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills at the nearest drug store or by mail on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes $2.50.

the Touraine was barely able to reach port, after. In the same length of time, there have been ten mysterious explosions in powder and munitions plants scattered throughout the east. Six of these have been in the Dupont works at Craney Point and Haskell, N. J. The arrests ended a trail which has been followed by the "combustible police" for two months.

In a Hoboken storage house, the police today found two trunks which are believed to have belonged to Fay. They were filled with copper wires and intricate and delicate machinery which the police declared might be used in making bombs. There were also numerous old letters and documents, written in German, in the trunks. A revolver of German make and a box of cartridges were also found.

The letters were sent to New York for translation. Fay admitted frankly this afternoon that he came to America to stop the shipment of war munitions to the allies.

Fay told newspaper men that his passage to the United States was arranged by the German secret service, after he had been relieved of duty in the Sixteenth Prussian infantry. He declared, however, that both Captain Boy-Ed and Captain von Papen of the German embassy refused to have anything to do with his schemes.

WE ARE NATION UNDEFENDED SAYS CAPTAIN FOWLER

Company M Commander Makes Plea at Open Forum Meeting for Greater Preparedness

CALLS ARMY STANDING JOKE

Speaker Declares That People Are Fed History of Great Victories and Feel Too Safe

Picturing the United States as a nation wholly unable to defend itself against attack by any of the greater nations of the world, Captain F. H. Fowler, head of Company M, pleaded for the defeat of the pacifist and the institution of a larger army and navy, in his discussion on "National Preparedness," at the Open Forum meeting at the Universalist church yesterday afternoon.

"Our army is a joke," said Captain Fowler. "It is a hard thing for a patriotic man to say, but the small body of men which we call our army is severely inadequate to create a feeling of safety."

"The people of this country have been fed upon the history which tells of great victories of our armies in the past, and they have been content, but if the people as a whole realized for a minute the facts concerning the strength of our martial forces, the glory would be gone."

"At the close of the civil war, the United States had what might be termed a fair army. That fact alone made Maximilian vacate Mexico. If he were alive now, he would laugh at us, or at any other nation with an army of the strength of ours."

"Seventy-five thousand trained soldiers," the speaker declared, "could have put a stop to the civil war within a few months after the southern states rebelled."

"The American people," Captain Fowler said, "are laboring under the opinion that they won a diplomatic victory over Germany in the episodes of the 'notes' which were lately exchanged between the two nations. If it had not been for the British fleet, Germany would have made no concessions to us."

Captain Fowler emphatically declared that he believed nothing could stop an invasion of America by a superior European nation. He declared that we could muster but 75,000 trained men, and that to send untrained soldiers against an army of invaders made up of highly trained men would be the height of folly.

The speaker closed his address with a plea to the men of United States to devote one or more years to military training. "Every man in the nation owes it to the nation and to the men who have made it free with their life blood."

WAR IS BOON TO AUTOMOBILE MEN

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—War orders last year resulted in American automobile manufacturers doubling their foreign sales, figures made public today by the commerce department showed.

In the year ending June 30, the totals were $74,000,000, as compared with $38,000,000 for the previous year. The total for the calendar year 1915 probably will reach $120,000,000.

Foreign Markets

New York Stocks NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—With the general list showing substantial gains, trading at the opening of today's stock market was active and broad. General Electric and Baldwin Locomotive each registered a four point advance at 180½ and 146 respectively. Crucible rose one one, while Steel opened at 86¾, up ¼. American Can was up ½ with American Locomotive up one. Bethlehem Steel opened at 57½, off ten points. After brisk opening the market became quieter in the first hour. Continental Can touching 100, from 105 1-2 on Saturday. Erie was active in the railroad list, going to 37. "War stocks" and the Motors were steady, though without any feature.

Industrials continued weak, on heavy selling. Baldwin Locomotive dropped to 140½ after reaching 146 while Steel declined to 85¾. Maxwell Motors broke 2 points to 75.

Trading became more active in early afternoon but price changes were unimportant.

In the second hour of the afternoon the market was quiet and was of an uncertain tone. There was a large supply of industrial stocks on the rallies, but there was evidence of a desire to take profits even in the railroads.

There was little material change in the market during the last hour and it closed strong.

Chicago Grain Review

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—After opening down ¼c from December and unchanged for May compared with Saturday's close, wheat experienced a sharp advance today. Strength at Winnipeg and Northwest markets encouraged the buying that resulted in advances of 3c and 2½c over the opening to 100 and 102½c.

Corn acted very much with wheat, being ½c down in both active futures at the start. Later in the day there were advances of ¼c and ½c to 57½ and 59½c.

Oats prices were higher with those of the other cereals. Provisions were not very active, and were lower.

LA CROSSE HIGHS DOWN THE STRONG EAU CLAIRE SQUAD

Get in Line for Pennant by Defeating Team Regarded as One of the Strongest of All

PILE UP SCORE OF 36 TO 0

With Regret on the Sidelines Gouldin's Eleven Walks Away with Game Almost at Will

Trained to the minute for what was expected to be the hardest game of the year, La Crosse trampled all over Eau Claire at Normal field on Saturday, making a final score of 36 to 0. Eau Claire was light, averaging only 140 pounds, and the hard, straight football used almost entirely by La Crosse overwhelmed their line. The game started late, the Eau Claire train being an hour behind schedule, and with the many periods of time taken out the sun had set before the final whistle blew. Many of the crowd of 1,000 who saw the game left before the final quarter had started. The game retires Eau Claire as a championship contender.

The northerners, without doubt, can give any light team a run for their laurels, but before La Crosse's heavy line they were helpless, making only four first downs the whole game. As in the Tomah game, the Red and Black profited more by their opponents' forward passing than by their own. Five passes were tried by La Crosse, all of which were incomplete. The only successful pass of the game was made by Eau Claire at the start of the fourth period. Of their others eight were incomplete and seven were captured by La Crosse players, one for a touchdown.
Another robbed Eau Claire of a good chance to score.

Captain Reid watched the game from the side lines.
The play La Crosse kicked to Williams, who returned to the 50 yard line. Two passes failed, no gain being made around left end. Hackner recovered a blocked kick. Layman and Bott carried the ball to the four yard line when Kulcynski went over on the end around. Layman kicked goal.
Eau Claire received and after some very uncertain playing on both sides, Kulcynski went around end for 28 yards to the Purple 10 yard line.
Three tries at center failed and on the fourth Feinberg shot a quick pass from a trick formation which was just out of reach of Kulcynski.
Eau Claire kicked over from their 20 yard line. Quarter over. La Crosse, 7; Eau Claire, 0.

Layman missed goal from field.
Hackner intercepted a pass and tore 30 yards to goal posts. Layman kicked goal. Devine of Eau Claire was kicked in the neck and was taken out. The injury is not serious. La Crosse kicked. Layman intercepted another pass and after some good football, Feinberg went over. Goal missed. A. Olson made the Eau Claire run of the game in this period, going 30 yards. Score: La Crosse, 20; Eau Claire, 0.

The one score of the third period was from a kick from placement by Layman after a 15 yard gain by Blatter. Both teams were forced to punt often, the best defensive work of the game being shown here.
The fourth period began with the ball in Eau Claire's possession, on their 20 yard line. The one pass of the game was worked for 50 yards.
A. Olson to C. Olson. The next play was also a pass and it looked good for a touchdown but Layman went high on his two yard line and took it away from the Eau Claire man. La Crosse braced as Zeisler came in for Feinberg. Roelling and Bott scoring.
Layman kicked one goal. Final Score: La Crosse, 36; Eau Claire, 0.

Class" Elevens

Three of the "big ones" fell by the wayside in the gridiron battles of Saturday. For the first time in her whole life Cornell defeated Harvard. Yale lost to Washington and Jefferson, emphasizing a similar performance last year. Ann Arbor fell before her own agricultural college.
Wisconsin held her prestige as a conference candidate, but her defeat of Ohio 21 to 0 is hardly as great an achievement as Minnesota's trouncing of Iowa 51 to 13, although Wisconsin has not been scored upon for the Gophers had just been deprived of one of her stars.
Illinois retains her caste by her defeat of Northwestern 36 to 6, with a crippled team.

A Record Broken
CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 25.— Cornell gave Harvard her first defeat in three years Saturday, 19 to 6. It was the first time in history that Cornell triumphed over the Crimson. The Ithacans outplayed Harvard at all stages of the game.
Silverick filled the hole made by the loss of Captain Barrett, who was put out by injuries in the first period. He outkicked Captain Mahan throughout the game.

Yale is Downed
NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 25.— Yale went down to defeat before Washington and Jefferson Saturday, 16 to 7. It was the second victory for W. and J. over the Blue in as many years. Yale showed the loss of Legore on both defense and offense. The fast W. and J. team bewildered Yale with fast forward passes mixed with straight football.

The Fall Thereof
ANN ARBOR, Mich., Oct. 23.— Michigan Agricultural college, trained to the minute for their biggest game of the year, completely overwhelmed the Wolverines on Ferry field Saturday before a crowd of 20,000 persons who packed the mammoth stands of the Ann Arbor field, the final score being 24 to 0.

DePrato was the big star of the game, making three touchdowns on hard smashes through the bending Michigan line and also kicking a perfect drop kick from his own twenty-three yard mark.

Chicago Wins
CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—The University of Chicago football team worried seven points out of Purdue Saturday on Stag field. That was just a touchdown more than the Boilermakers accumulated after sixty minutes of rough work and gave the Maroons the game by the figures of 7 to 0.

Soft For Illini
URBANA, Ill., Oct. 25.—Bob Zuppke's Illini beat Northwestern handily Saturday by a score of 36 to 6. The Purple was completely outclassed, and Zuppke did not have to risk his star stars, Pogue and Clark, to obtain the verdict.

DUNDEE AND RITCHIE READY

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Johnny Dundee and Willie Ritchie today finished training for their ten round mix at the garden tomorrow night.

BADGERS WALK ON STRUGGLING OHIO ELEVEN 21 TO 0

ference That Has Not Been Scored on This Year

M. STAVRUM PUTS ONE OVER La Crosse Boy Shares Glory of Byers Who Stars for Cardinals in Great Game

MADISON, Wis., Oct. 25.—Wisconsin university football team Saturday defeated Ohio State university eleven, 21 to 0. The Ohio eleven played a brilliant game, but weakened in the third quarter and Wisconsin scored a touchdown on two long forward passes and a fifteen-yard run by Byers. Three minutes after the fourth quarter opened Byers repeated with another touchdown, after a thirty-yard run around right end.

Finally within five minutes of the final whistle Byers tossed the ball to Stavrum, near the goal posts, and the latter went over for the third and last touchdown. Eben Simpson kicked all three goals.
The weather was ideal for football and the gridiron was dry and fast. Eight thousand spectators saw the game, a large delegation being from Columbus, Ohio, the home of the Scarlet and Gray team. Jack Wilce, the Ohio coach, who is a graduate of Wisconsin, and who was a star football player here, was given an ovation.

The defeat of the strong Ohio team advanced Wisconsin a step toward the conference championship for 1915. The Badgers have not been scored on this season.
For Wisconsin, Byers, left half back, was the star, making a dozen long runs and scoring two of the touchdowns and dividing honors with Stavrum in the third touchdown. Captain Buck, Stavrum, Eben Simpson, Galvin, Smith, Pottinger, Grant and Hancock also played a fine game for Wisconsin. Verges, Captain Boughton, Boessel and Ginn were stars for Ohio.

Luck Favors Cardinal Luck was with Wisconsin, except at the two points when Ohio took a brace and stopped it with a few feet of the goal line. Neither team did any costly fumbling, though each lost the ball by that method at a stage when the error might have been costly.

At the opening of the game Captain Buck won the toss and chose to defend the east goal, with a slight wind at his back. Eben Simpson, who did the punting for Wisconsin, had a considerable shade over Verges, who booted for Ohio.

Stavrum tallied the last touchdown for Wisconsin on a twenty-yard forward pass from Byers. Simpson again kicked goal, making the final count: Wisconsin, 21; Ohio, 0.

GOPHERS SCATTER IOWA AGGREGATION AND WIN AT WILL

With Solon Out of Game Neighbors Hammer Hawkeye Squad and Pile Up Score of 51 to 13

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Oct. 25.— Long forward passes mixed with brilliant end runs and terrific line plunging, enabled Minnesota to win the first conference game of the season from Iowa, 51 to 13. The much touted Iowa strength failed to materialize. Gross and Laun made several good gains which went for naught when their teammates were stopped short.

Gophers Handy With Pass
At the opening of the second quarter end runs behind impenetrable interference enabled the Gophers to score again. Three more scores were put over in rapid succession by two forward passes, one thirty-two yards long and another thirty yards long, and some brilliant end runs by Gopher backs. The half ended with the score 31 to 0 in Minnesota's favor.

Left Half Bierman, elected captain just before the game in place of Troin Solon, barred on the charge of being a professional, played a grand game. The Gopher line held like a wall and opened large holes in the Hawkeye line. Penalties of holding and off-side cost the Gophers three touchdowns in the first half.

Williams Uses Subs
In the third quarter practically the entire Minnesota team got into the play, the Gopher's score running up two more touchdowns bringing the count up to 45. Iowa scored a touchdown in this quarter on end runs by Gross. Davis kicked goal.
They scored again in the fourth quarter on line plunging and a long pass, Kerwick to Gross. Davis failed to kick goal. Lineup:

NORMAL PUSHES SUPERIOR FROM RACE FOR TITLE

Normal in Line for Conference and State Honors Following Victory
Saturday

NORTHERNERS ARE OUTCLASSED

La Crosse Backfield Overwhelms Them with Strum Starting in Attack

Headed for the state championship.
By the score of 35 to 0, La Crosse Normal school on Saturday eliminated Superior from the running for state or even northern conference honors and set themselves up as serious contenders for first place among the normal schools of the state.

Superior was outclassed. The La Crosse line was too much for them and the visiting backfield was a wonder. Skemp, Strum, Feinberg and Grausnick worked as a well-groomed machine should and they had the Superior men on the run from the time the first whistle blew until they romped off the field, victors.

Strum was the individual star of the game. He scored three touchdowns and made a good share of the gains for Sputh's men. Fullback Feinberg and Quarterback Skemp also scored. Bruha, speedy right end, was a star on both offense and defense. The game was probably his last on the normal team, it being likely that he will leave school.

LaFromboise's toe netted five points, the stocky guard successfully kicking goal after each of the five times the Superior goal was crossed.
Superior lost hard. For weeks the northern school had been preparing for the game, it being conceded that on the outcome of the scrap would depend chances for title honors. Co-eds for a week preceding the game sold arm bands to hire the Superior city band to be on the scene. Interest of the entire school was centered on the contest.

The band was out. It led one of the biggest demonstrations Superior has ever seen. La Crosse players were invited to participate, but Sputh had his men out on the field, snapping them into shape for the important struggle.

From now on, the local school will prepare for the River Falls game here a week from Saturday. River Falls defeated Stevens Point Friday 12 to 0, branding themselves as rivals of the local school.

The game Saturday with the Dubuque German college is not expected to seriously tax the strength of the team.

The La Crosse line-up: Holthaus, le; Wachter, lt; Mar-cou, lg; Taylor, c; La Fromboise, rg; Jackson, rt; Bruha, re; Skemp, qb; Grausnick, lhb; Strum, rbb;

Substitutes: Coburn, Bechtold, Superior: Roberts, c; Jackson, lg;
